

August 2023

Environmental statement

Fire & Peace Recovery believes that nature has physical and psychological restorative benefits for everyone. Protecting the natural world, respecting local habitats, and maintaining a clean environment are essential to connecting with nature and its healing properties. As such, we have committed to doing our part in maintaining a thriving natural world.

Fire & Peace Recovery will comply with relevant environmental legislation and will strive to better all practices to minimise waste, energy, and carbon footprints. It is essential that we implement simple, cost effective, energy-saving measures to promote the sustainability of the climate and lessen the negative impact of our organisation on environmental resources.

We commit to:

- Take appropriate opportunities to reuse, recycle, and minimise physical waste whenever possible, as well as dispose of waste in a safe and environmentally friendly manner.
- Promote environmental responsibility in our contracting and purchasing choices. For example, when hiring or purchasing minibuses, we will consider their life-cycle environmental impacts.
- Source food, wood, and other materials needed for our activities from local and ethical businesses, in line with the suggestions put forward by the Just Transition Commission.
- Protect the habitats and biodiversity we come in contact with.
- Encourage environmental responsibility amongst our trustees, staff, and volunteers.
- Assist beneficiaries in their environmental education.

Further documents: Scottish Government Just Transition Commission